

iFluxNews – Privacy Policy

Last updated: 14.02.2026

This Privacy Policy explains how iFluxNews, operated by Nicolae Alexandru Burcus, handles information within the app.

1. Information Collection

iFluxNews does not collect, store, or share personal data on external servers. All user preferences, filters, and app settings are stored locally on the device. No personal identifiers are transmitted. The App may access the internet to:

- Fetch publicly available news via APIs
- Generate AI-based summaries
- Display linked external articles

2. Subscription Data

Payments and subscriptions are processed by Apple App Store and Google Play through your account. We do not access, store, or process payment data directly.

3. Push Notifications

iFluxNews may send push notifications related to:

- news updates
- app features
- subscription information

Notifications are optional and can be disabled in device settings. Notifications are not used for advertising or tracking.

4. AI and External Data

iFluxNews uses AI services (such as OpenRouter, Tavily, or similar) to summarize news content. These services process publicly available information. No personal data is transmitted to AI providers.

5. Tracking

iFluxNews does not track users across apps, websites, or services for advertising or profiling. The app does not link user data with third parties for marketing or analytics purposes. We comply with Apple's or Google Transparency framework and GDPR principles.

6. External Links

The App includes links to third-party news websites. We do not control or assume responsibility for their content or privacy practices.

7. Children's Privacy

The App is not intended for children under 13 globally and under 16 in the European Union. We do not knowingly collect data from minors.

8. Security

Since the App stores data locally, information remains under the user's control. If the App is uninstalled, all stored data is deleted automatically.

9. Updates to this Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. The latest version will always be available in the App and on the website.
